Academic Support Services

If students find mid-term grades not what they would like them to be, remind them that there are many resources on campus for students interested in improving their grades or study habits. From tutoring in specific classes to general study skills, TAMU offers a wide range of programs for students to choose from including:

- The Student Learning Center offers a variety of learning assistance programs designed to help students learn how to gain the skills necessary to succeed academically at Texas A&M. Their programs include tutoring sessions and academic skill courses. For more information on the Student Learning Center, see their website: <http://slc.tamu.edu/>
- On-line workshops for various study skills and test anxiety along with other resources can be found through Student Counseling Service at: <http://scs.tamu.edu/academic/LSC.asp>
- Support from the Writing Center staff can be found at: <http://writingcenter.tamu.edu/>
- Peer Tutoring Program is a free tutorial service provided by the Department of Multicultural Services and Office of Honors Programs and Academic Scholarships bridging the gap between student performance and academic expectations for students having difficulty in certain subjects. Peer Tutoring Program provides consistent one-on-one and small group tutoring from students pre-screened on their ability to develop a positive working relationship and serve as academic role models. Tutors are A&M undergraduates who have excelled in the courses they tutor in and seek to develop positive working relationships and serve as academic role models to their peers. Tutoring services are Free and sessions are offered Sunday through Wednesday from 4:00-8:00 p.m. at Rudder Tower. For more information or to schedule a tutoring session please visit <http://tutor.tamu.edu> or call us at (979) 862-2000.

Parent Weekend and Graduation Hotel Reservations

Hotels in Bryan/College Station tend to fill up during busy times like Parents' Weekend and Graduation. If you are planning to attend either of these events next year (Fall Graduation December 18-19, 2009; Parents' Weekend: April 16-18, 2010; Spring Graduation May 14-15, 2010) we encourage you to make arrangements as early as possible. The Convention and Visitors Bureau website provides links to most area hotels: <http://visitaggieland.com/>
